

Government of India ensures land rights for Scheduled Tribes and Traditional Forest Dwellers

With a path-breaking new law passed by the Parliament, the Government of India is providing ownership rights to tribals and other forest dwellers over land under their occupation for generations. This is a historical step correcting centuries of injustice, and denial of basic land rights.

- Rights on land
- Rights on minor forest produce
- Rights on community resources

It is important to note that this Act only recognises existing historical occupation and no forest land is being distributed.
